Military Movements on Other Fronts Are Dwarfed by Galician Maneuvers

MISSION JUBILANT.
Washington, July 3.—The Russian offensive, welcomed with rejoicing by the Russian mission here, was stated today by Ambassador Bakmatoff to be complete proof of the re-establishment of Russia's fighting powers as a necessary safeguard to the achievement of the revolution. The temporary inaction was explained to two causes, the necessity of reorganizing the army on democratic principles and the time required for it to realize the necessity for destroying German autocracy.

The mission will not prophesy as to the future, except to say that Germany's hope based on a separate peace with Russia will not be fulfilled.

Petrograd, July 3.—The new Russian offensive has resulted in the capture of 6,000 more prisoners. The Russians are advancing toward Ziochhoff, Galacia, the war office announces.

The great offensive of the regenerated Russian army, initiated under the leadership of Minister of War Kerensky in person, is being successfully pushed. Advances to the Russian government declared it is developing "in an absolutely favorable manner."

10,000 Prisoners.
The success of the initial thrust in the new drive by General Brusseloff in Galicia was beyond question. Costly as it probably was to the Russian personnel, the taking of more than 10,000 prisoners by the attacking army in the comparatively narrow sector shows how disastrous it must have been to the enemy.

There remains the question of whether the drive could be kept up with sufficient force to reap the full advantage of the victory. While this question does not seem to be definitely decided, the indications are admittedly encouraging.

Nearing Lemberg.
Ground has been gained beyond the lines of the original attacks, and the Russians are advancing in the direction of Ziochhoff, which is 25 miles directly east of Lemberg. Ziochhoff lies on the important railroad line from Tarnopol to Krassno, at which point it links up with the Brody-Lemberg railroad line. It is slightly west of a north and south line running through the important Teutonic stronghold at Brzezany, 25 miles to the south.

Plenty of Ammunition.
The Russian artillery is plentifully supplied with ammunition for the important work it has in hand. The supply department was the weakest of any during the old regime. The deficiency in this respect now seems to have been thoroughly remedied. Petrograd advices declare the preparations as regards munitions and equipment were better than for any preceding operation in the whole war.

Military movements on other fronts are dwarfed in importance by the Russian drive. There is nevertheless considerable activity on the Alsace and Verdun fronts in northern France, where the Germans are continuing their attacks. General Petain's forces are holding firm, however, and all the crown prince's attempts of last night, including a sharp drive between Hill No. 304 and Avocourt wood in the Verdun region were completely checked.

Draft

NEED "REFORMATION NOT PUNISHMENT" SAYS JUDGE

St. Paul, Minn., July 3.—J. F. Arver, A. F. Grabl, Otto and Walter Wangerin, convicted yesterday in the United States district court of failing to register for the selective draft, were sentenced today to one year in the state reformatory at St. Cloud. Following their conviction yesterday, Judge Morris remanded them to one year in the Ramsey county jail in changing the sentence, this morning, the judge said:

"These young men have had their minds filled with evil literature. What they need is reformation, not punishment."

All of the four belong to a socialist organization.

REGENTS BOARD

Sentinel Butte Man Re-elected
This Morning—Brewer Retained as Secretary

EFFORT BEING MADE TO OBTAIN TRAVELING FUND

The unoust state board of regents closed its June meeting last evening and this morning met in the statutory July session and reorganized for the ensuing two years by re-electing Lewis F. Crawford of Sentinel Butte president; Frank White of Valley City, vice president; Charles Brewer, secretary; Harriett Thornton, chief clerk, and John P. Tucker, bookkeeper.

Dr. E. B. Craighead was re-elected to the office of commissioner of education and was given leave of absence, without pay, to September.

Transfer of Funds.
There remains an unexpired balance of several hundred dollars in the regents' lump appropriation for the last biennium. It has been held that the state laws governing educational institutions provide that appropriations for these institutions shall remain "alive" for four years, instead of reverting into the general fund at the end of the biennium, as do other special funds. Under this ruling, the board has asked that the heading of its $6,000 appropriation for salary and per diem of members be extended to include salary and per diem of members and traveling expenses of board and employees, and that the unexpended balance from the last two years be added to this fund.

It will be remembered that in the warfare on the present board, an appropriation of $7,000 for traveling expenses was voted by the governor. To Build Pavilion.

To encourage the breeding of standard cattle and with a view to increasing interest in livestock judging on the part of students at the agricultural college, the board today authorized the construction of a pavilion with proper stall room at the college, where cattle may be loaned from standard herds for judging practice on the part of the students, and where periodical sales of standard bred cattle may be held.

To Assist Ladd.
R. E. Stallings, assistant in chemistry to Dr. Ladd for nine years prior to his taking a position with the state of Georgia, has been called back to North Dakota by the board of regents, to assume his old post.

The Associated Press is informed from other sources that conditions elsewhere are equally grave in Poland, being particularly serious in Lodz.

MISPLACED SENSE OF

A misplaced sense of humor cost Roy Lunn, Bismarck taxi driver, a good sized fine when he ignored Traffic Officer McLean's orders to report to Justice Blacklock because, he advised the magistrate, he thought it was only a joke. Lunn was taken up by McLean for speeding, and when he failed to report as directed, was sent for.

Impression

Paris, July 3.—A battalion of American troops arrived in Paris this morning to parade on July 4. The troops were greeted by wildly enthusiastic crowds, which packed the streets through which they marched to the barracks where they are quartered.

Kiss Soldiers.
Several times groups of shop girls on their way to work slipped through the police lines and kissed the soldiers, to their great embarrassment.

Now and then an American voice would be heard calling out "Hello, boys," and "Welcome to Paris," or "Good luck." When the regimental colors were carried past, the men bared their heads. The Americans were greatly surprised to see a number of children kneel in the streets as the flag was carried by. They were orphans from an institution in the neighborhood.

Offer from British.
The soldierly bearing of the men impressed the people. They were well browned and their field packs gave them a different appearance from British or continental soldiers.

Headed by their own bands, the soldiers carrying their rifles and field packs fell in and marched off to the barracks. The crowds waved American or French flags. Hundreds of Americans were in the throng at the station. As the troops swung through the streets French girls plucked bouquets and American flags on the soldiers' breasts. Flowers were scattered along the route. The band played "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie," "Marching Through Georgia," and other American airs. French soldiers on leave grasped the hands of the Americans and marched beside them.

Practically every town and hamlet in the state has arranged to observe the anniversary of America's freedom in some appropriate manner. In a majority of cases the program will back to olden days, with basket picnics, speech-making and parades. Less money will be spent than in past years, but more emphasis will be laid upon the real significance of the day.

Feed For Soldiers.
In Bismarck the principal feature will be a community dinner to the 400 soldier boys stationed at Fort Lincoln. The feed will be given at noon, in the Masonic temple. For weeks past Bismarck kitchens have been turning out goodies in anticipation of this event. Tomorrow hospitable capital city women will vie with one another in begging the troopers

See German Plot in Loss Of Lake Craft

Federal Agents Endeavor to Apprehend Enemies Who Interfer With Shipping

MANY VESSELS ARE BURNED OR WRECKED

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Federal agents throughout the country are today endeavoring to apprehend enemy conspirators who, the government investigations disclose, are engaged in a plot to destroy or hinder Great Lakes shipping in an effort to obstruct the nation's war-time preparedness. Sympathizing American citizens are thought to be associated with Germans in the plotting.

The plotters are thought to be responsible for the sinking of the steamers Saxonia, Pentacost, Mitchell and Venetian Maid, the burning of the Kasaka II, the attempted dynamiting of the Mackinac and the wrecking of the machinery of the Jay Dee III, and the Niagara.

At this hour it was impossible to make an accurate estimate of the number of dead. Estimates of them run up to 100 and higher, but these estimates are purely conjectural. The exact number slaughtered probably will never be known, as it is thought that many bodies were consumed in the flames of the burning homes.

Further shooting was reported by the police, but without details as the afternoon wore on. Ambulances were scurrying hither and thither. Chief of Police Payne, hearing that a crowd of roughs from the Missouri side of the river was coming over, each "to get a nigger," appealed to Chief of Police Young of St. Louis, Mo., to close the bridges. These were closed last night, but reopened this morning. A fire building burning kept the firemen busy.

eking (Delayed), July 1.—According to an edict issued in the name of Hsuan Tung, the young emperor, who was put back on the throne today, under the protection of General Chang Hsueh, President Li Yuan Hung has submitted to the monarchy. The edict follows:

"Li Yuan Hung memorializes us to take over the government, stating that he was forced by the troops during the first revolution to become the nation's head. He bemoans his defects as head of the republic, and asks us to punish him. We recognize his mistakes and also his merits. We hereby appoint him a duke of the first class."

China's future government will be based on the following:

"The country shall be administered according to the constitutional laws promulgated by the late emperor."

"Expenses of the imperial household shall remain the same as those fixed before."

"Blood princes shall not be allowed to interfere in politics."

"There shall be no difference between Manchus and Chinese. Marriage between them is allowed."

"All foreign treaties and contracts shall remain in force."

"The stamp tax and other petty taxes are abolished."

"The republican criminal and civil code is abolished and that introduced the first year under Hsuan Tung is reinstated."

"Political offenders are pardoned."

"The wearing of queues is optional."

A hundred Japanese have arrived to strengthen the legation guard. There is no news of President Li Yuan Hung's expected resignation.

MOBS SLAY NEGROES; LOOT THEIR HOMES

No Estimate Can Be Made of Lives Taken But Property
Loss Is $300,000

COLORED PEOPLE SWARM
TO JAILS FOR PROTECTION

Labor Conditions Pour Oil on Fires of Race Hatred Brewing for Many Months

East St. Louis, Ill., July 3.—Fires were burning in five parts of East St. Louis at 1 o'clock this morning and at least 20 dead negroes and crowded hospitals testified to the terror that reigned here last night, while mob after mob swept the streets, seeking negroes whom they might slay.

At this hour it was impossible to make an accurate estimate of the number of dead. Estimates of them run up to 100 and higher, but these estimates are purely conjectural. The exact number slaughtered probably will never be known, as it is thought that many bodies were consumed in the flames of the burning homes.

Further shooting was reported by the police, but without details as the afternoon wore on. Ambulances were scurrying hither and thither. Chief of Police Payne, hearing that a crowd of roughs from the Missouri side of the river was coming over, each "to get a nigger," appealed to Chief of Police Young of St. Louis, Mo., to close the bridges. These were closed last night, but reopened this morning. A fire building burning kept the firemen busy.

Burn 300 Homes.
Three hundred and twelve dwellings, mostly negro shacks, valued at $200,000, were destroyed by fire in the rioting last night, according to a statement made today by Fire Chief M. J. Tobin.

Negroes who could not be cared for in the jail were buddled in groups, including some whites, in the prison yard, where they had died during the night. Militiamen guarded them.

Fire on Dying Negro.
One brutal incident of the night was related today. On Fourth street, near Broadway, three men saw a negro apparently dying, lying in a gutter. One flashed a pocket light in his face and saw that he still breathed.

"Well, what do you know about that? Not dead yet?"

He and one of his companions then drew their pistols and each fired a bullet into the negro's head.

The causes deeply underlying the disturbances are said to be of interest to many northern communities where negroes have been brought from the south to replace men enlisted in the armed forces of the United States, or who have been tempted to other sections by the high wages paid in munitions factories.

Race Antagonisms.
Race antagonisms flamed up last May, combined with an attempt to obtain a permit from the city council to build an addition to the negro settlement, but the project, after a bitter fight, was defeated. This served to intensify feeling against the blacks. Petty crime is said to have increased, disease likewise. The whites began to feel they would be saddled with an undesirable element.

Recently labor agitators are said to have stirred up their inflammable followers.

Mobs Attack Negroes.
Another of the innumerable incidents of the night was an attack on a young negro. White men and women were among the assailants.

"Let the women have her," was the cry among the men, and white women began tearing the garments from the victim. The negro's cry of "Please, please, I ain't dun nothin'" was stopped by a blow in the mouth with a club which a woman swung like a baseball bat. Another white woman seized the victim's hand and the blow was repeated. Fingers tore at her hair, and her waist was stripped from her.

Women Follow Her.
"Now, let's see how fast she can run," said a bystander as the negro broke loose. The women were loath to leave her alone, but after following her with their blows for a short distance they stopped and she ran crying down the middle of the street. The woman next tried to get an aged negro who was guarded by three militiamen. One of them wrestled with the soldier for his rifle and others succeeded in getting in a few blows.

Accuse Mayor.
An incident of the night indicated the temper of the mob. One crowd went about the streets shouting against the mayor.

"Let's get Mollman," they cried. "He's the man that brought 'em in. Let's lynch the mayor."

The cry was raised because of the false rumor that Mayor Mollman was

We Serve
by Burton Blaisley

Not by cheers alone or the flattering vaunt of speeches
Is the strength of a nation shown in the strain of the crucial hour
But by trust in a righteous cause and a glorious love that reaches
Deep down to a people's soul with its searching and poignant power,
So the flags that float on the breeze have a tarnished and tawdry splendor
If they are not raised aloft by hands that are leal and true,
And the test of our loyal might is the faith that we gladly render,
Not the words that our tongues may speak, but the tangible deeds we do.

H

All that our fathers dreamed of, all that they ever sought for
When they shivered at Valley Forge and battled at Bunker Hill,
Is again at stake in the world—a guerdon that must be fought for;
It is ours to hold and defend with all of our strength and will;
And if we would keep our banners proudly and freely flying
We must gird ourselves as others have girded themselves of old,
And prove by the fact of service, living or bravely dying,
That the torch our fathers carried has never grown dim or cold.

H

Not by cheers alone, or waving of flags and singing
Is a nation's spirit shown, but only when brain and nerve
Are trained to the instant need—and the nation's call is bringing Her bravest children forth—crying,
"We serve! We serve!"

NEWS OF NORTH DAKOTA AND NORTHWEST

BIG COAL USERS
COME TO WESTERN
LIGNITE FOR AID

Much Abused Fuel at Last Recognized Even in the Red River Valley

Minot, N. D., July 3.—Representatives of the Red River Power company of Grand Forks and other large consumers in the eastern part of the state are in Minot contracting for a year's supply of native lignite. General Manager William H. Brown of the Red River company advises that his concern will burn 25,000 tons of lignite this year. A few years ago less than that quantity was burned commercially in the entire state. In the early days, with firewood at a premium, unsuccessful efforts were made to burn lignite in the boilers of Missouri river boats, and it was discarded as an impossible fuel. This stigma has stuck in some sections even to this day, in spite of the fact that power companies have proven their ability to produce electricity from lignite almost as cheaply as by hydro-electric processes.

Issue Statement Declaring Press
Attacks Hold Back Students
From College

DIVISION OF WORK MAY REQUIRE NEW PRESIDENT

Dr. Ladd Familiar With Situation
When He Accepted Tentative Appointment

The following statement in reply to the most recent attack of the Nonpartisan league upon the board of regents, published in the league's daily organ Monday morning, and whose purport was that the board is seeking to depose President E. F. Ladd of the agricultural college and associates because of their friendship for the farmer, was authorized last evening by the three members of the board in session here and was dictated by President Lewis F. Crawford of Sentinel Butte:

"We notice in the Nonpartisan organ of July 2 a long article purporting to state what the board of regents is going to do with the president and members of the faculty of the agricultural college. This article, while a little stronger than any previous one, is in line with other articles published in the same paper at various times during the last six months.

Job Offered Ladd.
"President Ladd was asked to take the position he now holds without any solicitation on his part. He was asked to become acting president, as the board did not desire to take him from the chemistry and pure food departments of the college, but he thought it would be best for the discipline of the school if he were made president instead of acting president, and his wishes in the matter were complied with. At that time, President Ladd did not wish to be taken from his regulatory work, nor did the board wish to take him from this work. He informed the board that he would file his resignation as president with the board at that time or any time when the board so desired and a suitable man could be found for the place.

Fitted for Food Work.
"No one realizes more than the board the necessity of keeping the regulatory work and the pure food work up to the standard set by Dr. Ladd, and no one within our knowledge could do the work better than

he. The work of the agricultural college is growing, and the only time the question of President Ladd's relations to the work of the college has ever been taken up was at the May meeting in Fargo. The occasion for taking the matter up at this time was in account of the vast amount of additional work placed upon Dr. Ladd's department by laws passed by the last legislature, to take effect on July 1. During the past year President Ladd has either been compelled to carry on or give close supervision to the work originally performed by him and also to the administrative work formerly performed by President Worst. In addition to the above, new laws have added hotel inspection, oil inspection and the inauguration of a system of grain grading and licensing of elevator agents. To do the above work well is beyond the physical powers of one man. The time will soon come, and is probably already here, when there must be a division of labor. It is the duty of the board to place men where they can do their best work. We consider that President Ladd is best in the field of chemistry and regulatory work, where he has spent many years, and the only question that the board has considered is whether the time has not come for this division of labor.

Never Thought of Firing.
"At no time has the board considered or desired to do away with President Ladd's services. The board considers the work at the agricultural college to be on a more satisfactory basis than at any time since they assumed control. The Nonpartisan press of the city of Fargo has done more to injure the agricultural college than all other agencies combined. They would have the state believe that there is a constant turmoil in the institution, which does not exist. Such attacks are unjust to all connected with the school. Such attacks have kept students away, have decreased the efficiency of faculty members and have poisoned the minds of the public as to the character of work done at the institutions.

"The state and nation are spending about a half million dollars a year to make the college, but a press hostile to the agricultural college is doing its utmost to discredit and nullify the work of the institution. The board wishes to say, in passing, that if the time ever comes when it seems necessary for them to ask the resignation of President Ladd or any other president or faculty member under its control, that resignation will be forthcoming."

MINOT MAN HEADS NEW STATE BOARD

W. S. Hulett Chairman Electrical Examiners—Preparing to License Workers

W. S. Hulett of Minot was elected president of the State Fire Marshal H. L. Reade, who is secretary by virtue of his office, treasurer of North Dakota's first state board of electricals, which met at the capitol today and organized. Other members of the board are T. S. McDonald of Fargo and A. L. Avis of Jamestown.

The day was devoted to preparing blank forms and standards for printed matter which will be required by the board in carrying out the provisions of the act under which it was created. This act, effective Monday, imposes a fine of $100 upon any electrician attempting to practice his trade in North Dakota without first passing an examination and procuring a license from the state board.

Inasmuch as that fat fine has become an immediate probability, the board expects to be swamped with applications during the first few weeks of its existence. A master's license costs $5; journeyman's, $3, and a special electrician's, $2.

The new law makes Fire Marshal H. L. Reade state electrical inspector, imposes upon him the duty of naming a deputy inspector in every town of 1,000 or more population, and empowers him to name such deputy in smaller towns which adopt ordinances providing for electrical inspection. Any property holder or tenant or private citizen may call upon one of these deputy inspectors or upon the state inspector for the examination of any electrical work whose inspection is desired.

The secretary of the state board, who are electricians who make application for licenses accompany their applications with the required fee, and that the same practice be followed by cities which wish deputy inspectors commissioned. Otherwise much delay must result and a large amount of unnecessary correspondence be imposed upon the department.

Minot's Fourth.
Minot's Fourth will be ushered in with the raising of a new flag to the masthead of the pole which has been erected at the Great Northern depot. The Association of Commerce is in charge of the program, a feature of which will be an address by Rev. P. W. Erickson. In the afternoon exercises will be held in Riverside park. M. P. Johnson, state president of the Equity society, will talk on marketing and co-operation, and athletic events will follow.

Kildeer notes the day with an old-fashioned round-up and patriotic exercises, to be addressed by Chief Justice Andrew A. Bruce of the North Dakota supreme court. J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks, a member of the Yale debating team, in his college days, representative in the state legislature and one of the state's most gifted orators, will speak at Bradock.

At many of the community picnics throughout the state funds will be raised to aid in the work of the Red Cross.

Picnic For Kiddies.
Jamestown, N. D., July 3.—Plans are complete for the Fourth of July picnic to be held at the Klause park here for the kiddies, under the auspices of the Women's Relief Club and the Jamestown Mothers' Club. Practically every merchant in Jamestown has contributed a prize to be contested for in the many events to be run off during the picnic.

GEARY WILL BE THIRD MAJOR IN NEW REGIMENT

did record in the Philippines," said General Fraser this morning in announcing the new major's appointment.

Staff of Second.
The staff of the Second as it now is lined up will be: Frank White, Valley City, colonel; T. H. Tharaldson, Grafton, lieutenant-colonel; Charles F. Mudgett, Valley City; J. M. Hanley, Mandan; C. E. Geary, Fargo, majors. Every one of these staff officers is a veteran of the Philippine campaign.

Too Many Companies.
The announcement from headquarters today is that the Second not only is ready for a call to the colors, but is more than ready, with 14 companies pledged when the regulations permit but 12. From now on the process will be one of elimination, in which the fittest will survive.

Conditions.
For volunteer service in the Second regiment any man between the ages of 18 and 45 is eligible. The consent of parents is not necessary to the enlistment of men of 18. The term of enlistment is for the length of the war. Volunteers are not required to subscribe to the new six-year oath dictated for enlistment in the regular national guard service.

nial budget as passed by the Fifteenth assembly last winter. The new national guard act of congress of June, 1916, provides that a second regiment shall be recruited in order to bring the state forces up to standard. This action would have been necessary, even had war not been declared. In this instance, however, it will be a matter of choice among the volunteers as to whether they remain in the guard service at the close of the war, and if they do another enlistment will be necessary.

Plenty of Men.
The recent registration of 815 eligibles for selective service in Bismarck did not include more than 100 men now in federal service with Co. A. Allowing for all exemptions, there is every probability that Bismarck will be required to furnish at least one more military company, and as volunteer service is generally preferred, it is anticipated that the opportunity given the Capital City to raise a company for the Second regiment will be taken advantage of. In Mandan the Commercial club has become active, and good progress already has been made with recruiting for the Second

IF YOU THINK JUNE WAS DRY JUST HARK BACK TO OL' 1887

Yes, you bet my life June was a dry month, but it was a lot wetter than June, 1916, some wetter than June, 1918, and a very great deal damper than six other Junes in the 42 years, which have elapsed since they began recording Dakota weather at the Bismarck station.

During the month just passed, 2.15 inches of rain fell in 1916 there were 1.50 inches rainfall, in 1913, 2.06; in 1909, 1.44; in 1905, 1.31; in 1894, 1.76 in 1889, 1.03; in 1887, .50—now that was dry!—in 1886, 2.04, and in 1876, 1.24. So, when anyone tells your crops are going to the devil, how woe for lack of rain, just ask 'em if they remember the big drought of '87, when they even had to cease using water for a chaser.

The normal precipitation for June is 3.24. The heaviest on record was recorded in 1914, when 9.30 inches fell. The deficiency for June, 1917, was only 1.39 inches. The accumulated deficiency since January 1, however, is 4.03 inches. There were 11 days in June on which .01 inch or more rain fell, and only 10 clear days were noted. The greatest precipitation of the month in any one 24 hours occurred June 3, registration day, when .35 of an inch fell. The highest temperature recorded was 93; the lowest, 38, and the mean 62.3 less than normal. There was one hail storm, no killing frost and no other marked phenomena.

south and advertised that negro labor would be well paid here.

As a matter of fact, he conferred in New Orleans with a view to discouraging migration of the negroes. The news was published at the time, but the crowds last night were not in a mood for fine distinctions.

27 Dead.
The list of the known dead in the race riots in East St. Louis, said to be the worst in the nation's history, was increased to 27 today, when the bodies of three more negroes were found.

Two fire companies from St. Louis, Mo., have arrived to help fight the fires. Three fires started in negro quarters at noon were fanned with a high wind and got beyond control. A general fire alarm has been sounded. Troops and police have hurried to the scene of the fire, where crowds of rioters have assembled. Five or six shacks are on fire and the flames are spreading rapidly.

At a conference between Adjutant General Dixon, Col. Trite, assistant adjutant general, and 100 business men, Samuel McLyinn, a lawyer, denounced the conduct of the national guard, saying if they had done their duty there would have been no serious rioting. The guards did not try to break up the crowds, in fact, fraternized with the rioters, he declared. Adjutant General Dixon said if he learned of any case in which guards failed to do their duty they would be court-martialed. Col. Trite said up to 6 o'clock last night he had only 50 guards with which to face the rioters.

TO HEAR BELLS TOLL FOR BOY SHE THINKS IS ALIVE

Funeral of George Dixon Tomorrow Within Two Blocks of Sick Room of Mother

MODERN WOODMEN WILL FORM ESCORT FOR DEAD

With his mother, herself in the shadow of the valley of death, ignorant of his tragic fate, the remains of Officer George Dixon, stabbed to death in the discharge of his duties at Wilton on Sunday morning, will be laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery tomorrow forenoon, after services at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's pro-cathedral. Rev. M. J. Hultner officiating.

Scores of friends of the popular officer will escort his body to Bismarck this evening, and the bier will lay in state at Lucas' chapel until 9:30 tomorrow morning. Modern Woodmen of America, in whose organization the deceased long had been prominent, will meet at the undertaking rooms at 9:30 and will form a guard of honor for the remains of their late comrade, marching to the cathedral and thence to the cemetery.

Wilton Suffers Shock.
No tragedy in the history of Wilton has so shocked that town as has the brutal murder of George Dixon. The deceased came to Wilton as a boy grew to manhood there, and had proved himself an excellent citizen and an efficient officer. In Bismarck, where he spent a number of years as attendant at St. Alexis and as a guard at the penitentiary, he had many warm friends to whom his untimely death came as a blow.

Mother Very Ill.
St. Alexis hospital, where the deceased's wife and mother both were confined at the time of his death, and whence the former was carried to Wilton at her urgent demand Sunday evening when she learned of her husband's death, the mother lies in so critical a condition following a recent serious operation that she cannot be told of the fate which has overtaken her boy. Tomorrow morning, within two blocks of her room, the last rites will be held for her son, and in order that she may make the most of her small chance to live, she cannot be permitted to know the significance which the solemn tolling of St. Mary's bell possesses for her.

KELLER NOT A MINER.
Wilton, N. D., July 3.—Employees of the Washburn Lignite Coal company, the state's largest and best equipped mine, are much incensed because Joseph Keller, slayer of Officer George Dixon, was referred to in news stories as a coal miner. They emphatically declare that he was not a miner and never had been, but that his connection with the company was as a hand on the Washburn farm, several years ago. The miners are proud of their personnel, and they do not wish the public to believe that it includes such men as Keller.

FOURTH OF JULY RECRUITING WILL COMPLETE RANKS

Captain A. B. Welch and Lieutenants Preston and Cordner Pleased With Results

Fourth of July recruiting is expected to complete all ranks of Bismarck's new company of national guardsmen, which is to form a part of the Second North Dakota regiment. Capt. A. B. Welch will spend the day on the Standing Rock reservation, where he will make an address at the Independence Day celebration held under the auspices of the Sioux, into whose tribe he has been adopted as a foster son of Chief Justice John Grass. Lieutenants Ward Preston and Ferris Cordner will go to Moffit, where a Fourth of July picnic will be held. In both of these places the officers hope to interest a number of men. At Standing Rock tomorrow 2,500 Indians will assemble for the Fourth of July exercises.

Today Lieutenants Preston and Cordner are in McKenzie, Driscoll and other towns in the eastern part of the county, where they report excellent success in recruiting. Later in the week Captain Welch will go over the north line out of Mandan accepting enlistments from all of the towns between Mandan and Kildeer. The new recruits include many veterans of the Mexican campaign and young men of the age of conscription, who prefer to volunteer and serve with a company of their own people, rather than to await the draft and assignment possibly to regiments made up of strangers. The new regiment will not be called upon for inspection until July 15, and it is probable that the call for mobilization will not be issued until some time later. Captain Welch is of the opinion that there will be ample time for everyone who enlists to return home and straighten out their affairs before the final trek to the concentration camp in New Mexico begins.

LIBERTY.

The struggle for liberty is as old as the race. Ever since the spark of intelligence crept into the head of man, he has been struggling against the bonds of departing eras.

At first these bonds were the bonds of forest and swamp—the bonds of natural environment.

When man learned to build his home on high ground, when he learned to make weapons, when he learned to make fire, when he learned to take the skins of animals and make clothes from them, he achieved great liberties. These things enabled him to do things he had not been able to do before.

And that is about what liberty is—the ability to do things that could not be done before.

So man has gone on fighting for the right to do things he could not do before. Invention has brought many liberties. Science has been one of the great liberators. We owe more than we can ever tell to the patient men who have sat and pondered over test tubes, mathematical calculations and retorts.

We owe much to those who have just sat and dreamed dreams, for out of the dreams of these have come many of our most precious liberties. From the dreamers we got the idea of liberty.

And the idea of liberty is the thing that urges us to get liberty.

In later days political governments supplanted savage and feudal governments and again liberty advanced, giving men new and wonderful liberties.

With the establishment of political governments came the great awakening of the world. At last the gateway was opened for the complete flowering of human possibilities. But it was only the gateway. It was the opening of the era. The pathway through that era was still a pathway strewn with thorny and rocky passages. But the urge toward liberty is always in the breast of man.

Progress is the only course open to those who are not willing to die. With political government came the contest between autocracy and democracy.

We now face the climax of that struggle. And it is fitting that the land which struck the first great blow in that struggle should now be called to throw into the scales the deciding weight.

As America was the inspiration of the world's liberty lovers in 1776, so is America today the inspiration of those who hold liberty to be more precious than life.

And to no people could there be given a more exalted opportunity, a more precious mission.

In this moment the forces of progress and reaction meet in tremendous, final conflict. Autocracy will be toppled into the abyss, wrecked and discarded and before the liberated peoples of the world there will lie the supreme epoch of all history.

We come now to the days of complete emancipation for mankind. We come now to the age of man's greatest achievements; for as liberty has come to man, so has man achieved in this, the great liberty, the liberty of the future. This will be the building of man for man's enjoyment and edification. Here can know it will surpass all that has gone; that we know.

In this titanic crisis, in this great war for progress and democracy and human liberation, let us on this day rejoice that we are given opportunity to take our place on the side of right and that our land is blessed with the liberty which we seek for all the world.

July Fourth today means for all the world what in the past it has meant for America.

And to think Uncle Sam had 'em all the time!

TROOPS IN FRANCE.

It is with a thrill of indescribable pride and joy that the people of this country have learned that some of their matchless regular soldiers and marines have landed on French soil to constitute the first elements of what eventually is to be an immense American army under General Pershing.

The "contemptible little American army" thus begins to follow in the footsteps of "the contemptible little British army" which the corseletted martinet of the Prussian war machine so affected to despise. Just as the British gave a wonderful account of themselves, so it is expected will our own regulars, who have never failed to do their duty and carry the flag on to fresh triumphs and glories.

At last the wooden sword which the Prussians told their people was all Uncle Sam would be able to wield turns out to be a steel sword with a sharp edge and a sharper point.

Our cruisers, our fast destroyers, our hospital corps, our engineers, our practical woodsmen, our ambulance men and part of our regular army are already working against Germany.

As the weeks go by, more and more of our troops will find their way to the front. The truth will slowly penetrate the military-mad German mind. Leaders and men will both learn from actual contact that this country has drawn its sword, never to return it to the scabbard until a victorious peace has been won.

America has decreed that the awful menace of ruthless German militarism must be driven from the world and America will stay on the job until it is finished.

Our boundless resources, our food, our money, our munitions, our ships, our men will all be poured into the scale against the kaiser.

The Teutons have reached the peak of their power and from now on are a diminishing quantity. With America in the field, the Allies have not yet reached the acme of their power. With us in the war, the anti-kaiserist forces become an increasing quantity. It becomes a simple problem in mathematics. In a war of attrition that side wins which has the most men, the most supplies and the most money. The United States gives the overwhelming preponderance to the side of democracy.

Viewed in this light, autocracy is doomed. Liberty and freedom and popular enlightenment are going to win the greatest fight ever waged for the cause of the plain people.

No other national independence day means quite what ours does in world history. Wherefore we intend to make American Independence mean the finest thing in the world.

BONE DRY.

It sounds arid. But time only will prove its parchedness.

North Dakota's law was a fluke, a surprise to Watkins, Finwall and Langer, all of whom were firmest in the super-dry prohibition law.

There must be some excuse for the reformer, quoth Finwall. From the comparative dry to the superlative "bone dry" was a step these guard-

WANTED: A MAN

A FOURTH OF JULY EDITORIAL
By the Rev. Charles Stelzle

There are men with only one talent. We need them—God bless them—the world could not move without them.

But this is a challenge to the man who has ten talents—but has never found it out.

Our country faces a crisis—in some ways the greatest in its history—greatest because the stakes are bigger than ever before. The future of the whole world is involved in the outcome of the great war in which from this time forth we shall have so important a part.

To win this war, we need men. We need men more than we need food and guns and battleships. We need men for all kinds of jobs, but most of all we need "ten talent" men.

A ten-talent man is one who sees things and can put them into blue-prints and diagrams or else talk them out in such a fashion as to make others see them, too.

A man who feels needs—and who knows how to supply them.

A man who has the power to stir others and who will say to them: "Come on—let's do it," but who will do it whether anybody comes or not.

A man who does things which everybody else said couldn't be done.

This is the kind of a man who's needed today.

We need him in the trenches—but we need him in the bloodless battles to be fought back in the home town.

We need him to interpret to his neighbors the big things in this war—the things which fighting for.

We need him to map out plans to help the boys at the front and to provide for the wives and mothers and children who are left behind.

We need him to lead in putting across Red Cross campaigns and in selling Liberty Loan bonds.

We need him to help maintain industrial standards in shops and factories so labor will not be compelled to fight all over again the righteous battles already won.

We need him to encourage every sort of enterprise which will give encouragement and force to the cause for which we are fighting.

We need him to give backbone to those who are responsible for maintaining moral standards in the community during the war, when the temptation to let go will be tremendously strong.

Such a man must be on fire with the patriotism which makes martyrs and heroes—BUT HE MUST NEVER THINK OF HIMSELF AS A HERO AND STILL LESS AS A MARTYR.

One such man in any town can work wonders—one man—just one.

HOW ABOUT YOU?

and of the public and private consciences feared and loathed.

No more booze, no more reformers.

No more "fix": A bas law enforcement leagues. No more slipping down coal chutes into cellars. No more wriggling through subterranean passages to locate the found cache.

Tears from Watkins, sighs from Finwall, short, effervescent ebullitions from "Cyclone Bill," as the trail of booze from the Twin Cities to North Dakota vanishes probably forever.

The "reformers" started something they could not finish at the legislative session. They fashioned a law that would admit just enough liquor and malt so as to save their jobs.

But presto! Some earnest "dry bone," satirically took the saturation out of the Watkins-Bill and made it as dry as a piece of Egyptian parchment.

A whole state is jubilant that it is thus delivered from the spying, prying tribe, headed by Watkins and Finwall. Two big boys killed with one stone. North Dakota became bone dry and the "bones" of the public morals must go to work again.

The hardened toper will take his medicine like a man, because he has to; but how will Watkins and Finwall thrive under a bone-dry law?

A bas booze! A bas paid reformers! Billions of dollars raised for Liberty bonds, millions for Red Cross and thousands of troops landed in France, is only the first show-down!

CUPID'S RECRUITS.

Speaking of famous generals, there's Cupid.

Probably you are mobilized in his army. Maybe you volunteered, maybe you were conscripted. "No exemptions," is Cupid's order.

Very few enlist for a short campaign. However, only the married regiments are in for the duration of the war.

But no matter where you are on rolled, nor for how long, you must have discovered that the weakest spot in love's regulations has to do with his training camps. Cupid takes care that his recruits are always handsomely uniformed and splendidly drilled for review, but he forgets to give them sufficient practice in trench digging.

Love sets up his training camps at every summer vacation resort and amusement park. He makes a drill ground of every ball room floor. And his rookies experiment recklessly with the ammunition of flirtation—smiles and sighs, blushes and kisses.

But after the real battle of life has commenced, too many of love's legionnaires prove themselves lacking in the morale by which soldiers survive to become veterans.

No man has entrenched himself properly for the battle of life, if he cannot pay the rent on the bungalow. No domestic trench is safe if its occupants forget to use those small dearments which made pre-nuptial drill so captivating.

Wake up, Cupid!

Put your training camps in kitchens as well as in ball rooms, at the wash tub as well as at the bathing beach. Desertions from your ranks will decrease, the court-martial known as divorce will disgrace your records less, when you drill your troops more for defense than for the parade.

Bill Hohenzollern knows now Uncle Sam isn't bluffing!

"Go tell your king you want peace," says the U-boat captain, as he shoots off another torpedo.

A year ago today we may have celebrated; let history record that today we consecrated.

You can smell powder equally well from a cannon or a cannon cracker, but patriotism this year is not weighed on the cracker scales.

Soldiers To Have Real Banquet--Flowers and Music

Instead of a "big feed" soldiers stationed at Fort Lincoln will be treated to a real banquet tomorrow afternoon in the Masonic temple by the women of the Auxiliary to Company A. Flowers, music and a bevy of beautiful girls as aids will feature. Nothing more elaborate could be imagined. The spacious refectory of the temple will be lined with long tables, which will hold clusters of pink and white carnations, donated for the occasion by Hoskins and Wills conservatories. Many of Bismarck's fairest young damsels have consented to be aids and a number of the Capital City musicians will present a musical program during the afternoon.

A special feature will be the musical program by O'Connor's orchestra. No one has done more for the success of the banquet than M. C. O'Connor, manager of the orchestra. Victrola music will also be a feature.

The women in charge expect to serve 400. The soldiers will be seated in groups of 200. The menu will be served in courses and everything has been done to make this a memorial event in the lives of North Dakota's soldier boys. The first course will be served at 1 o'clock.

Kindergarten Children Stage Patriotic Pageant

The first great show of patriotism in the capital city was displayed by 100 kindergarten children this morning in an elaborately staged pageant on the campus of the North Ward school. The little tots, all in white lingerie frocks, wore white tissue paper caps with red tassels and blue buttons. An arm band of the red, white and blue was also worn on the left arm.

A Maypole was erected in the center of the campus and bore streamers of red, white and blue. Two Maypole dances added much to the program. Each child was represented in the pageant in songs and folk dances. This large representation of young Americans sang the patriotic songs from memory and with an enthusiasm which their mothers who gathered to hear them, might envy. The program was staged by Miss Matilda Williams and Miss Laura Keenan, the directors. Following the program, ice cream cones were served to the children.

VERY FULL COATS FOR EARLY FALL

By BETT L. BROWN.

New York, July 3.—Full skirted coats adorned with huge collars are among the first fall showings of the designers. They differ from last year's garments in the arrangement of the fullness, which is less conspicuously in front than of yore, and also in the extreme length of the shoulder, which comes "way below the top of the arm in the most extreme early Victorian manner."

Hats which completely cover the forehead and eyebrows will be featured for fall and will prove popular or not, according to woman's inclination to sacrifice half of her own features.

PONCHO---SKIRT, DRESS OR COAT--- IN WOMAN'S PREPAREDNESS GARB

New York, July 2.—The poncho, which uniformed men turn to so many practical purposes, has proved equally adaptable to the uses of femininity.

It is an important part of the new "preparedness" costume of khaki, designed by B. Altman & Co. It may be worn as a skirt, as a raincoat, as a cloak in cold weather and is well provided with buttons to make it fit, however adjusted.

25 Ounces for 25¢

By WINONA WILCOX.

Our patriotism is as old as the Fourth of July. This year it is born again. We have celebrated past triumphs of our national spirit annually. Now we consecrate it to future victories.

We are in the great war for a well defined end. Democracy—perhaps world democracy—is to be the direct product of our new patriotism.

We expect valuable by-products also—surely the unity of the various peoples within our borders, perhaps the vote for women, probably government control of public utilities and the necessities of life.

Men desire, doubt or have faith in these side results according to their political creeds.

To women, the war so far means potatoes at $4 a bushel, while patriotism means knitting spangles for the Red Cross.

But there is one by-product of patriotism which is particularly woman's, and which is not peculiar to any flag. It is patience.

It is a great modern wonder, this unending patience which began when the first Belgian mother snatched up her babe and fled before the swift gray German hordes. The aged women of Poland knew it as rival armies swept back and forth across their harvest fields. The Armenian women knew it as they left the skeletons of their starved little ones on the desert sands. The Serbian mother knew it when she saw her man-child fight beside his father and his grandsire. French wives know it as they bind up the limbs of their husbands and sons and send them back to the trenches. English women know it as wave after wave of their brave men go up against the Hun. Canadian women know it as they send their big boys overseas.

Of the great nations of the earth only the women of this country have been spared their share in the sorrows of humanity, have been deprived of their lesson in eternal patience.

But at last it is here, conscripting every woman, on this Fourth of July. It is not yet time for us to be patient with God for the day to weep over our dead is not yet come.

But the earth is full of misery. And it is high time for us to practice patience with common things against the hour of dreadful need; time to smooth out the petty weariness of living, to give up our pet grouches, to sacrifice the worrying, weeping, carping, bickering, selfish nagging and hysteria which put so much unnecessary torture into so many homes; time to make ourselves fit to receive the great patience which is the by-product of patriotism and woman's heritage of war.

the city and has assumed his new duties as clerk at the Finney drug store.

Baldwin Visitors—Herbert Little and H. C. Moffit, prominent farmers of the Baldwin district, were among the business visitors in the city Monday.

Here From Lyman—J. A. Walste of the Lyman school district was in the city Monday and while here transacted business at the county superintendent's office.

Licensed to Wed—Marriage licenses granted during the week-end are as follows: Walter L. Gilchrist and Miss Carrie J. Hofmann, both of Sterling; Robert B. Fields and Miss Ruth Moore of Menoken; Karl F. Miller, Napoleon, and Miss Mary Kunkel, Bismarck; Charlie A. Baker and Miss Ruth E. Sather, Bismarck. Mr. Gilchrist and Miss Hofmann were married by Judge Bradley.

Wing Stabber Caught—Nick Yrlatas, charged with having stabbed a fellow workman on the Northern Pacific, near Wing, on Monday morning, was captured late yesterday afternoon, at Jamestown, and Deputy Sheriff Rollin Welch went down last night to claim his prisoner, returning today. Yrlatas' victim is not expected to die.

NO BONDS TO BE ASKED OF DEPUTY INSPECTORS

Fargo, N. D., July 3.—No bond of any kind will be required from the several hundred deputy inspectors to be named under North Dakota's new grain grading act. This decision was arrived at yesterday in a conference between Dr. E. P. Ladd, state inspector of grades, weights and measures, and the railway commission. It had originally been suggested that some small surety, in the form of a $500 bond be required from the deputies, but it was determined yesterday that this will not be necessary.

The Young Idea Knows Where to Shoot!

No Apology Needed for Amateur Athletes, They're Doing Their Bit

By PAUL PURMAN.

No greater tribute can be paid to the effect of amateur athletics on the average youth than the way college and amateur athletes responded when Uncle Sam went to war.

Hardly had the call been sent out for recruits when college men, many of them the country's greatest athletes, rushed to the colors, and enlisted in their favorite branches of the service.

Golfers, tennis players, amateur ball players, athletes of every description sought out recruiting offices or applied for places in the officers' reserve corps.

College baseball teams were broken up, hopes of football teams in many colleges were shattered, track teams and crews were disbanded, coaches joined with their pupils, golf tournaments were abandoned, tennis classics given up.

Amateur athletes are doing their bit, they are showing that their athletic training has done more for them than simply making them good physical specimens. It has built up their courage and made them self-sufficient and unselfish.

Professional baseball has done its bit in military drill and there were few players if any in the big leagues claimed exemption on their registration cards.

The only blot upon sport has been caused by the professional boxing fraternity. Never has there been a time when boxers could do more to redeem their languishing game than now.

STANTON ARRIVES THIS AFTERNOON FOR THE FOURTH

Fast Team From North Branch to Cross Bats With Bismarck Tomorrow

Stanton, the only team which has succeeded in finding Bismarck's weak spots this season, arrived this afternoon for two games with the Champs tomorrow. Both games will be called in the afternoon. The first will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Goldie and Christmann will perform on the mound for Bismarck, and Stanton's crack twirler, who was laid up for some time with a sprained wrist, will work in one of the games for Stanton.

Stanton unquestionably has the strongest team the slope affords this season. On its home grounds it played around Bismarck, although the champs at that time had but seven games of their regular line-up. While Bismarck has since been reinforced by the return of a number of last year's stars and will be in particularly good shape tomorrow through the arrival yesterday of Tom Shanley, the champs' stellar second sacker, who opened the season with Denver in the Western League, the Stantonites have also heightened up their defenses, and tomorrow's games will be most anything's until they are won.

Stanton always has received a warm reception on the local diamond. The team and the bunch of fans who always come with their diamond representatives are good sports, winning the game and there is no question that the attendance for both games tomorrow will set another record for the season.

The fourth's doubleheader promises to be a winner.

DIAMOND NOTES

This country went into the war admirably prepared for baseball.

Li Hung Sheng is the most improved veteran player on the Athletic team.

Several of the Brooklyn players are to get bonuses if they hit up to certain marks.

Three "lean ball" pitchers would be handy with the hand gradates in the team benches.

Harry McCormick, one of the American League's new umpires, appears to be a capable official.

Ed LaRue, the former Buffalo Fed pitcher is now a full-fledged dentist, and is practicing his profession.

Portland is drawing big crowds to its home games, and maybe Hugh Duffy wishes he had stuck on his job.

Fischer is described as the "best catcher in the National League." How true, Gandy, Kilfer, Snyder?—but maybe he meant the Pittsburgh league.

Barney Livingston won better baseball honors ahead. He takes the small crowd philosophically, and does not believe the war will hurt the grand old game.

And then there's Groh of the Reds. He's doing some star work and don't you forget it. In fact he's running a very close second to the great and only Hoidal Zim.

If worse comes to worse, Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, et al. could assist some in pitching tents. And some of the outfielders with good pegging arms might come in handy throwing gas bombs.

MOOSE STOP TRAINS

Herds of moose have been delaying trains on the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, which runs through Jasper Park, Alberta. The superintendent at Jasper reported that following a ten-foot snowfall in that region the animals would gather on the tracks, which was the only place cleared, and would run frantically ahead of the engine.

Sometimes passenger trains would lose as much as two hours by slowing down or stopping to avoid killing the moose. In one or two instances the animals turned and charged the engines.

Intricate Electrically Operated Mechanism Installed by Two Big Railroads in Chicago.

A room filled with intricate, electrically operated mechanism installed at a cost of $100,000 by two large Western roads on Washington street, Chicago, the junction of the two roads, has reduced to the minimum the possibility of accidents and injuries to the traveler.

This room is the headquarters for the interlocking signal system installed by the railroads.

It is through this station that the lives of thousands are safeguarded as they go thundering over the tracks of the two roads, in daylight and darkness. Through the medium of this new service the possibility of a head-on collision is practically obliterated and the open-switch catastrophe becomes a thing of the past.

The headquarters station is connected with dozens of smaller stations along the routes of the two roads, and between these stations are both overhead and track-light signals.

Through the installation of the new system the forgetful switchman and the untrustworthy signalman become things of the past, and travelers may slumber in peace as they are whirled through the maze of tracks in the railroad yards.

PRACTICAL HINT ON ECONOMY

American Railroad Man Makes Interesting Suggestion to Employees on Use of Pencil Holders.

An interesting suggestion of economy has recently been proposed by an American railroad to its employees, in the use of pencil holders. Ordinarily, a pencil is thrown away when it has been reduced to its last third, but if placed in a pencil holder it may be used down to the last inch without any inconvenience to the user. Each pencil is a small item of finance, but on the amount of pencils used by that one company alone, the saving would amount to thousands of dollars every year.

Harold was instructed in the duties and spirit of a host by his mother before she gave the birthday party. One guest, a boy of eight, feeling too old for baby games, was frankly bored and refused to join in the play. Several times Harold, in obedience to warning glances, offered the boy his own place, only to meet as many refusals. Finally he inquired in tones of sincere interest, "What did you come for—to eat?"

CITY HEALTH IS EXCELLENT SAYS DR. F. B. STRAUSS

Verbal Report Made to City Commission Shows Results of Vigorous Cleanup

URGES ESTABLISHMENT OF CENTRAL SLAUGHTER HOUSE

Animals Are Being Killed in Corporate Limits Contrary to Law

Health conditions are excellent in Bismarck, according to a verbal report made last evening by Dr. F. B. Strauss, city health officer, to the city commission. The city recently detailed a special officer to assist in cleaning up premises that were a menace to the health of the city.

Put in Shape. "Most of these," said Dr. Strauss, "have been put in shape. I believe, however, that the time has come for a central slaughterhouse. There is slaughtering of animals within the city limits, which should not be tolerated. All private abattoirs should be compelled to clean up at once. Conditions are better than a few weeks ago, but there is still room for improvement."

Water Supply. "I am informed by the Bismarck Water Supply company that a chlorinator has been installed and that the engineer of the company is now at work upon a plan to clarify the water."

Dr. Strauss urged that the detention hospital be given a water supply. It is beyond the reach of the city water plant and it will be necessary to sink a well. At present the water must be hauled in barrels, which has proved unsatisfactory.

Garbage Disposal. Attention was called to the fact that garbage collection began Monday. People are urged to get galvanized cans and co-operate in securing efficient garbage disposal. Dr. Strauss said that refuse was being carried away in vehicles not water tight, which is contrary to the ordinance. Offenders will be prosecuted if violations continue.

Commissioner E. C. Hattley presented a letter from the Bismarck Water Supply company, stating that its engineer was at work upon a filtration or clarifying plant and that the same would be in operation as soon as it could be constructed.

Boulevard Cleaners. Several property owners in Park District No. 1 who elected to care for their boulevards have neglected to do so. City Engineer Atkinson was asked to prepare a list of those who agreed to care for the boulevards. Notice will be sent to them to comply with their agreement or the city will be forced to cut the grass and water it. Portions of the boulevard are in a deplorable condition.

Licenses Pawnbrokers. An ordinance providing for a $50 license for pawnbrokers and $25 for junk and second-hand dealers was placed on its first reading.

The application of George Gussner for permission to build a wooden structure opposite the Annex on Broadway was denied. Mr. Gussner stated that he would cover the building with sheet metal. The commissioners took the position that the building regulations in the business district should be adhered to strictly.

Curbing on Main. Provision will be made for a curbing on Main street west of Corwin's garage, so as to improve the drainage. When necessary a 15-foot walk will be ordered in to conform with the one in front of the garage.

Commissioner Kirk was directed to confer with the Soo Line relative to opening a street in the east end of the city, which has been petitioned for. It was suggested that Fifteenth street would be the most convenient. City Assessor Morris reported $552 collected in licenses. The city weighs

Here Are Independence Days of Our Allies

JUNE 15
GREAT BRITAIN

Great Britain's famous "unwritten law" is founded actually on a highly respected written document, the Magna Charta. It is the Declaration of Independence for the British.

Oppressions of a tyrannical ruler, King John of England, caused an uprising of the English barons, who drew up this charter and forced the king to sign it at Runnymede, on June 15, 1215.

Although the charter was designed to protect the rights of barons and feudal proprietors, and did nothing to help the common people, it was the basis for legislation and court decisions in later years that have made England democratic.

JULY 8
SERBIA

The first step toward Serbian independence was taken July 8, 1908, when peace was declared between Turkey and Serbia, after a revolution led by Kara George. The people gained partial autonomy under Turkish rule, but it was the greatest step forward the Serbians had made.

The Serbians gradually won complete independence from Turkey and then were able to force their rulers to grant them constitutional government. King Alexander, on May 21, 1931, granted the people the constitution which is still, almost in its entirety, the foundation for the laws of Serbia.

master reported 750 loads received at the city scales and $75 collected in fees.

Following the adjournment of the commission meeting, the board of equalization held its final session and after a few minor changes in the assessments, adjourned.

MAN NOT MASTER WHO SUFFERED FROM HIGH COST OF SURVIVING

The following correction, requested by W. J. Curran, the well known Valley City contractor, is gladly made. The Tribune is at a loss to account for the confusion of names which was responsible for the error:

Bismarck, N. D. Gentlemen:

I note in your paper of Monday, June 18, 1917, that you have the following news, which I wish that you would kindly correct:

"Mandan, N. D., June 18.—The high cost of living is blamed for the downfall of W. J. Curran, cook at the Klondike hotel, who is doing time in the local jail after being fined $50 and

Ten days from today, France will celebrate her independence day. On July 14, 1789, the people of Paris burned the Bastille, where political prisoners were confined and the visible sign of generations of tyranny. The same day, next year, King Louis XVI signed the first draft of the first constitution for France.

Although the French were to be ruled twice again by kings and emperors, their third republic finally has succeeded. It has existed since 1871 and its constitution is the development of the one signed on July 14, 1790.

JULY 2
ITALY

Out of the many dates remembered by Italians for the granting of popular constitutions by the rulers of the states making up United Italy, July 2 looms up as the greatest.

On that day, in 1871, Rome, the papal seat, became capital of Italy. Until then there were Italians who still suffered the burden of absolutism, although the people of Sardinia and Piedmont lived under almost as liberal rule as today. July 2, when all people throughout the Italy of today came under the same liberal rule, therefore, is Italy's great day of independence.

five days in jail for the theft of a large quantity of meats and other edibles from the hotel kitchen."

Now, for your information, I wish to say that I am not a cook and never have been. I am the contractor who is building the buildings at Mandan, and employed one A. Arneson to run a cook camp in the Klondike hotel. This man was under my employment, and he, not I, was arrested and sent to jail, and it was from me, not the Klondike hotel, that the meats and other edibles were stolen.

If you will kindly make a correction of this item I will be very much obliged to you.

Yours truly,
W. J. CURRAN.

ATTENTION! WOODMEN.

Modern Woodmen of America are requested to meet at Lucas undertaking parlors at 9:30, Wednesday morning, to attend funeral of Neighbor George Dixon.

P. F. REEFSTEAK, Consul.

L. VAN HOOK, Clerk.

MARCH 16
RUSSIA

Russia, hereafter, will celebrate March 16 as her July 4.

On this day, this year, the provisional government of Russia issued its famous appeal to the people, which is actually that country's declaration of independence. The next day Czar Nicholas was forced to abdicate.

Independence day to the Russians will mean not only their own freedom from the bonds of autocracy, but the freedom of the thousands of political exiles in Siberia and the democratization of the whole empire. Ex-czar Nicholas may be put on trial for misgovernment.

OCT. 5
PORTUGAL

Portugal had just writhed out of the extravagant and tyrannical rule of King Carlos, when he was assassinated in 1908. Dom J. F. C. Franco, premier under King Carlos, had been practically dictator of the country. Revolution was brewing when Carlos' second son, Manuel, ascended the throne.

Under Manuel II, conditions did not improve, so, on Oct. 5, 1910, he was deposed and a republic proclaimed under the provisional presidency of Theophilo Braga. Manuel fled to England.

Webb's War Garden Celebrates Fourth; Brand New Spuds

The war garden of W. H. Webb, Sr., celebrated the Fourth by yielding some fine, well matured early Ohio potatoes. These are the first to be reported in Bismarck. Mr. Webb planted them the last week in April and they were in blossom two weeks ago.

Mr. war gardener can you beat it? Tell The Tribune about it if you can.

OCTOBER 4
BELGIUM

Although Belgium did not gain complete independence from Holland until 1839, the Belgians issued a declaration of independence as early as 1830.

October 4 is the date which corresponds to our July 4.

This was during the revolt against the Dutch. Belgian independence and neutrality was recognized by the powerful countries of Europe, but Holland refused to give up that country. Settlement finally was made in 1839, when Belgium was recognized as a "neutral" country to be protected by the powers.

DECEMBER 19
MONTENEGRO

Montenegro's day of independence is Dec. 19.

The people of this small ally had felt free since their country's liberation from Serbian rule in 1889. But kings continued to rule them as autocratically as elsewhere in Europe.

It was not until Dec. 19, 1905, that popular discontent grew to such degrees that Prince Nicholas was forced to proclaim the abolition of the autocratic system. He summoned a popular national assembly and issued a liberal constitution, to which he took oath and which still is the country's basic law.

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION LEAVES STATE

Dr. E. B. Craighead, Salary Cut by Governor's Veto, Returns to Missoula

EMERGENCY COMMISSION MAY HAVE TO PRODUCE

Dr. E. B. Craighead, commissioner of education, co-operated with P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner and other experts in making the recent educational survey of North Dakota, left last evening for his former home at Missoula, Mont.

Dr. Craighead resigned the presidency of the University of Montana to become commissioner of education, nearly two years ago. His efforts to coordinate the work of North Dakota's numerous educational institutions resulted in much criticism from communities jealous of their own school. The engineering problem was a particularly complex one, and though he succeeded in bringing about complete and harmonious cooperation between the schools of engineering and the agricultural college, the opposition which he engendered in so doing resulted in Governor Frazier's vetoing the appropriation for the commissioner's salary when that item came to the executive notice, at the close of the session.

As a result there is no fund upon which the board of regents may now draw to reimburse the commissioner of education, except the emergency fund, which is in control of the opposition.

May Contest Veto.

Friends of the regents and the commissioner contend the emergency commission can be compelled to appropriate for an office which is provided by statute, as is that of commissioner of education. Whether an effort will be made to do this is not known at this time. The position carried a salary of $5,000.

Relations Were Pleasant.

Prior to his departure Dr. Craighead commented upon the pleasant relations which had been maintained between his office and the regents and the various institution heads and faculty members, and expressed the opinion that much which the survey aimed at has been accomplished. He is particularly gratified with a letter from E. S. Keene, dean of the engineering school of the agricultural college, who outlines an agreement which he has reached with Dean Babcock of the college of engineering of the University of North Dakota, by which overlapping features of the two

HISTORICAL FACTS IN REGARD FORT LINCOLN

In a recent news story The Tribune referred to the social activities of Fort Lincoln in its "former location," meaning the old fort located on the west side of the river. While the old fort was Abraham Lincoln and the new is merely Lincoln, sentiment has generally regarded the new post as a continuation of the old. Lewis F. Crawford, president of the state board of regents, contributes the following interesting data on the subject:

"In an article in last night's issue of The Tribune, headed, 'Social Activities Again Make Gay Old Haunts of Custer,' the impression was given that the present Fort Lincoln is a continuation on a new site of the old fort across the river, south of Mandan. The old fort was established by a board of officers convened at Fort Rice, July 22, 1872, with General Crittenden as president. The site chosen for the fort was part of the land set off as the reservation of Fort McKean so named in honor of a deceased army officer. Later the name was changed to Fort Abraham Lincoln. The fort itself was built on the point afterward known as 'Fort Abraham Lincoln on the Hill.' After General Custer made this fort his headquarters it was often called 'Custer's Post.' The infantry were quartered on the hill and the cavalry below. General Custer was never at Fort Lincoln. Fort Abraham Lincoln was abandoned in July, 1891. Work was begun on the building at Fort Lincoln in 1898. The first commandant was Capt. John Parke."

MOYER AT OUTS WITH I. W. W.

Denver, Colo., June 3.—The Industrial Workers of the World were charged, in a statement last night by Charles Moyer, president of the International Union of Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers, with participation in a nation-wide conspiracy to shut down the copper mines of the world.

Mr. Moyer said strikes would be called by the Metal Mine Workers' union, a branch of the I. W. W., in Utah copper mines. He called attention to the recent succession of strikes in other copper mining sections of the west, and continued:

"The I. W. W. has had no money in the treasury. It seems to have plenty of money now. Where it got this money, I cannot say. The public may speculate as to the source of it."

"There is no doubt the I. W. W.'s are trying to put us in a bad light with the Arizona operators. If there should be any violence in Arizona, I will lay it at the door of the I. W. W.'s."

SIR BEERBOHM TREE DIES AT HIS HOME IN LONDON

London, July 3.—Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the actor, died last night.

Sir Herbert had been ill for several days. It was announced that he had successfully undergone an operation and, according to latest reports, was making satisfactory progress toward recovery. His death was therefore unexpected.

Sir Herbert slipped while descending a staircase on June 16, and strained the ligaments of his right knee. He underwent an operation June 21, which proved to be somewhat serious, but was expected to lead to his complete recovery.
